

UK Equity Analyst – Asset Management
Up to £65,000 plus bonus and benefits

The Opportunity:

- Chance to join a well established and highly regarded UK equity research team, that forms part of a wider Pan European Team
- You will take sole responsibility for researching several sectors, across the UK large cap stock universe
- Responsible for contributing investment ideas to a number of funds, including UK institutional mandates and retail funds, as well as Global mandates that have UK equity exposure
- Active participation in the portfolio construction process

Your Profile:

- It is essential that you have previous fundamental equity research experience, from ideally the buy-side, although sell-side experience will be considered as long as you are motivated to work within an asset management environment
- UK equity (large / mid cap) research is preferred, although other country knowledge may be considered, as long as you have a demonstrable interest in the UK equity market
- Confidence in presenting ideas to the business and the proven ability to effectively hold meetings with a company's management
- You must have a history of strong academic achievement, ideally combined with a minimum of a pass at level 1 of the CFA
- The ability to make quick and informed investment decisions, with a high level of conviction. This is a "stock-picking" role and will suit you if you have an entrepreneurial outlook

The Company:

- Global Asset Management business with an enviable reputation for fund performance and innovative fund structures
- The London office is City based with excellent transport links
- A culture that promotes both personal and professional development – completion of the CFA Charter will be strongly encouraged
- The company does not employ career analysts, and you will be encouraged (in time) to assume portfolio management responsibility
